

POWERFUL NUTRITION

When managing a deer population, three major factors impact the growth and reproduction of your herd – habitat, genetics and nutrition. Implementing a feeding program that fills any gaps in your habitat is essential. Rack Revolution's 100% dried distillers grain products offer a unique combination of concentrated protein and energy to effectively encourage growth, while also supporting herd health and promoting reproductive performance.

WHY DDG?

Dried distillers grains are a corn by-product of the ethanol production process. DDG is rich in protein, fat, minerals and vitamins, with significantly more energy than whole corn. Low residual starch content prevents acidosis and a high level of phosphorous maximizes calcium utilization for harder antlers. Plus, the powerful, natural aroma of DDG draws deer in and keeps them coming back.

Whether you're looking to improve herd health, grow bigger antlers or simply attract deer to your stand, MasterHand Milling's Rack Revolution product line offers unique, all-season distillers grain supplements unlike anything else on the market.

ALL THE BENEFITS OF THE ORIGINAL, Magnified FOR MAXIMUM RESULTS!

The latest in the Rack Revolution line, Magnify takes the benefits of our original DDG product and cranks it up! We start with our tried and true 100% distillers grains, then add carefully researched ingredients to create a revolutionary supplement designed to fill nutritional gaps and maximize your deer herd's potential.

Digestion Aid

Our organic fermentation ingredient maximizes utilization of both the distillers grain and native browse. This allows more nutrients to be absorbed into the bloodstream and transported to areas of the body where they are needed most.

Essential Oils

A proprietary blend of all natural essential oils, botanicals and organic compounds provides antioxidants and anti-inflammatories to help relieve stress and inflammation caused by disease, pathogens, irritants and injury.

Mineral Blend

The fortified trace mineral blend provides the building blocks for growing larger, healthier deer. Calcium maintains gut health and encourages antler growth, while other minerals support health, fertility and immunity.

SEE SUPERIOR RESULTS WITH ALL-SEASON SUPPLEMENTATION

Research shows offering a balanced, free choice supplement all year offers numerous advantages for your deer population.

WINTER

Support bucks recovering from the rut. Promote fertility and pregnancy in does. Increase digestion and absorption in harsh weather.

SPRING

Provide bucks with key protein in the early stages of antler growth. Support lactating does and encourage growth of new fawns.

SUMMER

Maximize antler growth during the final stages of development. Insect repelling properties help reduce the spread of disease.

FALL

Provide minerals for harder antlers and improves buck condition leading into the rut. Helps does and weaned fawns prepare for winter.
